ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION:

Describe architectural features. Evaluate the characteristics of this building in terms of other buildings within the community.

1119 Main Street is a two story dwelling on a rectangular granite foundation. To the side (west) of the dwelling is a two story ell. The side gable roof of the three by two bay dwelling is sheathed in asphalt shingles. Although altered, the simple dwelling includes a few remaining Italianate details: the cornice returns on the side façade, the hoods over the front windows, and the paired brackets under the eave. The exterior walls are clad in wood clapboards. The windows have been replaced with 1/1 double hung sash windows. The windows are flanked by shutters. The side ell features an overhanging second floor that forms a first floor porch and is supported by square posts. A small modern portico protects the central front entry.

HISTORICAL NARRATIVE

Discuss the history of the building. Explain its associations with local (or state) history. Include uses of the building, and the role(s) the owners/occupants played within the community.

Although the late 19th century history of the dwelling at 1119 Main Street is unclear, it was possibly occupied by members of the Alonzo D Marshall family. Additional deed research would be necessary to determine a construction date and ownership history. However a plan of the Estate of Perry Jefferson in 1906 shows the parcel occupied by 1119 Main Street as owned by the Marshall family. Alonzo D Marshall (1838-1892), a farmer, married his wife Martha c1872. Martha was a daughter of Thomas Morey (1388 Main Street TEW. XXX). His wife and children lived on Main Street after his death into the first decades of the 20th century. The house was owned c1935-1965 by Ella and Thomas Manley, a chauffeur.

Additional owners include: Louis Marion (1965-1968); Lewis Tremblay who resided at 25 Robinson Avenue in Tewksbury (1968-1998); Dean & Catherine Sheehan (1998-2006); Deutsche Bank National Trust (2006); and Gary & Kimberly Brown (2006-2009).
